SHEARD AUCTIONEERS

Chris Sheard 082 375 5920 | Ian Sheard 082 410 1712

Just a short note to thank everyone for coming today.

We have had three tough years as livestock farmers. Hopefully things have turned for the better. We honestly need a good run.

The main emphasis we are concentrating on, with the sheep, is condition score and getting the flock more uniform. All this under the guidance of Viv. Adapted sheep remain a priority. Many people feel the rams should be bigger, or better prepared. That is easy, just feed them more. And you can see on this farm there is not a shortage of food. No one wins that contest, all that happens is the sheep get more and more removed from reality. Nice rams but his children will be standing at the gate waiting to be fed.

The young rams currently average 72.5kg. 80% of that is 58kg. That is very close to the average weight of our mature ewes. The older rams average 79.4kg.

You can buy rams weighing 100kg, then your ewes must be 80kg. It is human nature to buy the biggest or the "best". Problem is we are farming and here functional is more important than the biggest or the best.

I apologise for the lecture. Let's relax and enjoy ourselves.

Thanks

Claude & Greg

WHAT WE DO AT FELIX

“We produce the same amount of wool per hectare today as we did in 1990 — the difference is quality. Back then it was 22.5 micron; today it's 19 micron, with higher clean yield.

We also lamb far more ewes now. That puts pressure on animals, so we only work with sheep that can handle it.

People often focus on production per animal. That's a mistake. What keeps you farming is profit per hectare — that's the mind shift needed if you want to still be here in 20 years.

Diesel has always been expensive, wool too cheap and meat prices too low. That won't change. What must change is how we farm.

At Felton, we do things differently: fancy sheep cost money; functional sheep make money.”

Konsortium-Merino se nuwe data formaat

KM EBV INDEKS

Teelwaardes is net vergelykbaar as daar sterk koppelings tussen stoeterye en omgewings bestaan. Weens die swak koppeling van Konsortium-Merino se diere met die res van die Merinoras, is teelwaardes afsonderlik bereken net vir die Konsortium-diere.

Die teelwaardes is gestandaardiseer in 'n teelwaarde-indeks waarvan die gemiddelde die van die diere is wat sedert 2014 gebore is. Al hierdie diere is steeds deel van die Merinoras-ontleding en teelwaardes ten opsigte van die ras kan op aanvraag beskikbaar wees.

KM INDEKSE

Die variasie in elke eienskap wat getoets is verskil van mekaar. So byvoorbeeld is die variasie in vaggewig heelwat meer as die variasie in veseldikte. Hierdie verskil in variansie impliseer dat die boonste grens vir vaggewig bv. 150 kan wees en vir veseldikte 120. 'n Indeks van 110 vir vaggewig is dus effens bo-gemiddeld, maar 'n indeks van 110 vir veseldikte is heelwat bokant (sterker) as die gemiddelde.

Met die KM indekse is al die prestasiedata gestandaardiseer om voorsiening te maak vir die variasie in elke eienskap. Met die KM indeks beteken 'n 115 vir vaggewig en 115 vir veseldikte dat albei ewe ver bokant die gemiddelde is.

Hierdie KM indekse, plus kondisiepunt met die afsluiting van die toets, is gebruik om 'n KM seleksie-indeks te bereken.
